Religious practices, conduct or obligations that relate to the core values and beliefs of a recognised religion and that are in conflict with any rule contained in this Code of Conduct will be accommodated by a deviation from this Code of Conduct by the Governing Body under the following conditions:

- The learner, assisted by the parent, must apply for a deviation from the standard School rules if such rules are in conflict with or infringe on any religious right of the learner.
- This application must be in writing and must identify the specific rule/s that is/are offensive to the learner's religious right/s as contained in the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa.
- This application must include a reasonable interpretation of the religious rights that the learner feels are offended and a suggestion on how the rules may be supplemented by the Governing Body to accommodate such religious rights.

- The religious conduct or practice must be lawful.
- The Governing Body must consider the application and, if it is satisfied that the application is justified in terms of Constitutional principles, the application will be granted in writing.
- When the Governing Body allows for deviations from the standard rules, such deviations must be based on core religious beliefs inherent to the religion, and it must be compulsory for the learner to comply with such beliefs.
- The deviation must specify the extent of the exemption from the normal rules and must clearly identify the conduct that will be allowed – e.g. the wearing of a head scarf, including colours and details of design; the growing of a beard; or the wearing of a specific hairstyle or jewellery – and the conditions under which such deviation will be applicable to the learner.

- Cultural rights will be considered in the event that they do not relate to a religion, if such cultural rights manifest in conduct of a permanent nature that is compulsory for the cultural group. This refers to cases where the removal of the cultural jewellery or mark will cause considerable pain to the learner. Normally, cultural rights are exercised through marks and expressions of a temporary nature that are justified for a specific cultural gathering. The learner must convince the Governing Body that his/her cultural rights can be exercised only through a permanent intervention.
- Any request for a deviation from the Code of Conduct based on cultural rights must be in writing and must be based on a process similar to that contained in subparagraphs 1 to 8 above.

J) CELL PHONE POLICY

The cell phone (and other electronic devices such as MP3 players, other music players and cameras) has no educational value at school and, as such, it is not permitted for learners to bring such items to school during the school day. Possession of a cell phone at school during the school day is thus prohibited and any cell phone found on a learner will be confiscated, with the sim card, etc.
2. The use of the camera facility on most cell phones is open to abuse with the possibility of pictures being taken of incidents which are then spread to others thus harming the good name of the school. As such the principal or the designated nominee will have the right to look at the images stored and delete images where applicable.
3. Cell phones can be used to cheat in examinations and tests. For this reason, no cell phones are permitted in examination venues or in teaching venues when tests and examinations are written. This same policy applies to the externally set national examinations.
4. The learners are at risk of mugging when going to and from school and there is an alarming increase in the numbers of reported incidents around many schools.
5. Learners may, in an emergency, make use of the school phones to contact their parents/guardians. While it is appreciated that this policy may cause inconvenience for learners and their parents/guardians it must be understood that it has been drawn up with the best interests of the learners at heart, with consideration for their education, their personal safety and the safety of their possessions.
6. All confiscated cell phones will only be released at the end of the year. All Confiscated cell phones carry a penalty to be determined by the SGB annually and will be paid at school when collecting the cell phone.
 - a) Learners who require their confiscated cell phone returned before year end will pay a penalty of R500.
